TWENTY THIRD SUNDAY IN ORDINARY TIME (A)

---

"CONSECRATE THEM IN THE TRUTH"

Any time we gather around the table of God's Word, we are privileged not only to hear the Word of God proclaimed to us. In fact, we come to experience and receive Christ himself who is God's Word. We pray with Christ, in Christ and through Christ to the Father. In our encounter of Him in today's liturgy, Christ himself has offered a prayer to the Father on our behalf; "Consecrate them in the truth" (Jn 17:17a).

What is the truth for which Christ prayed that we be consecrated in?

In his prologue, John tells us, 'In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God and the Word was God' (Jn 1:1), and 'the Word became flesh and lived among us' (v 14). The Word, which lived among us, is Christ himself who became like us in all things, but sin. As God's Word, Christ is also the truth, "I am the way, the truth, and the life" (Jn 14:6). Being the truth and praying that we be consecrated in the truth can then be interpreted as being consecrated in Christ himself who is the truth.

To consecrate means to be made holy, dedicated or set apart. In this regard, the prayer of Christ, that we be consecrated in the truth, is a prayer for us to be made holy, dedicated or set apart in Christ for a specific task, that is, the work of God, the work of evangelization. Differently put, it is a prayer for us to share in the work of Christ, 'As you sent me into the world, so I sent them into the world' (Jn 17:18). A prayer not only meant for the disciples but for all Christians, as Christ makes it clear in verse 20 of chapter 17, 'I pray not only for them, but also for those who will believe in me through their word', so that all Christians, together with the disciples may come to share in the oneness of the Trinity (verse 22), in terms of God's work of love, mercy, forgiveness and salvation.

So in this prayer of Christ, we see ourselves chosen by God in Christ to help in the conversion and the salvation of the world. As a people set apart, the responsibility rests on us to help people deal with the issue of their wrong doings. This we do by helping people know and accept their wrongful acts so as to be forgiven and transformed in Christ. 'If your brother does something wrong, as Christ says, go and have it out with him alone, between your two selves'. The intention is not to humiliate but to save the dignity of the person. This calls for love, that which we owe one another as Paul tells us in the second reading. Love then should be the basis of that journey of bringing the sinner back to faith in Christ.

As a people set apart, and like Ezekiel, we must be the mouthpieces of God, in our homes, church, country and the world at large, so that in us, God's message of love, mercy, forgiveness, reformation and the redemption of each soul may be heard. Where two or three meet in Christ's name, he is there with them. And whatever they ask, it will be granted to them by the Father. With this in mind, we pray that God grants His grace to all who may hear His own words in us so that they can renounce their ways and live. And may He, who has consecrated us in Christ, help us to be faithful at all times in His work.
