ALL SAINTS Holyday of Obligation – Solemnity

Dear Parishioners,

In the 'I confess' prayer we ask for the help of 'Blessed Virgin Mary, all the angels and saints and one another to pray to for me to the Lord our God.' In the Creed we pray that we 'believe in the communion of saints'. The words from the verse of the hymn, FOR ALL THE SAINTS, written in 1888 by Bishop William Walsham How read, 'But lo! There breaks a yet more glorious day; the saints triumphant rise in bright array; the king of glory passes on his way, Alleluiah.' It is a wonderful vision that is rich in diversity and infinite variety. We have been 'lavished by the Father's love by calling us all his children.'

The feast of ALL SAINTS is an ecumenical opportunity for all the churches to re-unite as ALL God's children and that denominational divisions can be held and reconciliation celebrated between Catholics, Anglicans, Baptists, Lutherans, Methodists, Pentecostals and the other reformed traditions, not to mention the ancient split between the Catholic Church of the West and the Orthodox Church of the East. Historical bitterness has been drained out of divisions. Friendships and mutual collaboration have opened a new horizon to heal an old wound. Rancour and rivalry have no place among ALL God's children who celebrate the message, ministry and mission of Jesus.

On the feast of ALL SAINTS, I imagine that as well as all the holy children, women and men from past generations who have gone before us, they will meet the Russian Orthodox Seraphim of Sarov who died in 1833, George Fox, the founder of the Quakers who died in 1691, Francis de Sales, who died in 1622, John Bosco who died in 1888, Bernadette Soubirous who died in 1879, Therese of Lisieux who died in 1897, Maria Goretti who died in 1902, Chiara Lubich who died in 2008 and the many founders of women and men religious orders and congregations. There is no part of heaven reserved solely for one denomination or another. There is one heaven with many mansions. ‘There is one God and Father of all, who is over all, through all and is in all’ (Eph 4, 6).

O blest communion, fellowship divine; we feebly struggle, they in glory shine, yet all are one in thee for all are thine, Alleluia.

New Pilgrim Path Website of the Week: These words are from Pope Francis’ latest encyclical, Fratelli Tutti, which has been hailed as an extraordinary example of thought leadership at a time where there is a real sense of despair on many sides, and an absence of social imagination about what might come next. It is a long document, but you can watch a superb video synopsis of its key points at www.newpilgrimpath.ie.
