Fourth Sunday of Easter (A)

Voices are very important. We can all recognise and remember distinctive voices – like particular sports commentators, news reporters and radio hosts. Some voices become household names. In today's era of digital television, the Internet and social media, there are so many voices out there vying for our attention. Which voices do we listen to, and which are truly good for us and our children? There are so many voices it can be overpowering. But Jesus tells us that there is one voice that truly fulfils, that is His own voice, the voice of the Good Shepherd.

Today is Good Shepherd Sunday, when we think of Our Lord as a shepherd leading us. He says, 'my sheep hear my voice.' How do we hear the voice of God? Or is there so much background noise that we don't hear the voice of God? It is not enough to hear passively – by 'hearing', Jesus means listening to and accepting.

The call of the Good Shepherd is a personal call; He calls us by name. There are many ways He speaks to us – through the Scriptures, and we can hear Him speak to us when we prayerfully reflect on them. He speaks through the teaching and Sacraments of the Church, to which He gave the authority to teach in His name, and to feed His sheep. He speaks through the lives of the saints, who are models of holiness for us. He speaks through the events and circumstances of each day, and through the needs of our brothers and sisters. He speaks through our conscience, which guides us to make correct decisions. Sometimes, if we have done wrong, our conscience will convict us and we will feel guilty. This is no bad thing, because it leads us to repentance and allows the good shepherd to lead us back to safety.

Sheep are docile. That means they follow and obey a good shepherd and so benefit from him. Docility is a virtue – it means observing, listening to, imitating and obeying the directions of those who know better than we do, and accepting correction. A docile person knows he does not know everything and is willing to learn. At the same time, a docile person will be prudent enough not to listen to just any voice claiming to be a shepherd. There are many false voices, 'thieves and brigands', which try to sow division and scatter the flock. We can go astray and get it wrong. What do we do then? As Peter told the crowd in the first reading, 'you must repent.' – turn back, listen to the Good Shepherd again.

Like sheep, we can sometimes get caught in a hedge or stuck somewhere and cannot free ourselves. Turning back to God, He will free us, and lead us again along the right path. As today's Psalm says, 'He guides us along the right path, and He is true to His name.'

PROCESSION IN HONOUR OF OUR LADY – IN TWO WEEKS: This year, being the 100th anniversary of the apparitions of Our Lady of Fatima in Portugal, and the 100th anniversary of our diocese, we hope to make our annual procession in honour of Our Lady the best yet, in thanksgiving to God. The procession will take place on Sunday May 21st, starting at 2pm at the Upper Site of Our Lady & St George School, and proceed along Shernhall Street to the Church where the rosary will be prayed in several languages, including Portuguese. We now plan to hold a barbeque afterwards in the parish garden. Please save the date.
