The Most Holy Trinity (B) (30.05.2021)

Year of St. Joseph

Dear Parishioners,

Our God, beyond us, beside us and within us.

There is a 1966 film called, Andrei Rublev, that traces the life of the Russian painter in the world of medieval Russia. He has left us with many Icons and one in particular of the Trinity, which is also called The Hospitality of Abraham.

We celebrate the hospitality of God when we pray and bless in the language of Father, Son and Holy Spirit who is a source of never-ending life and love. We believe in a God who is ‘with us always until the end of time’ as proclaimed in the Sunday’s Gospel.

God does not book a private table for one to join our world! God enters our rowdy bedlam world to feed our famished, fragmented lives with the nourishing sustenance of a forging friendship and with a food that is sealed in a promise of an eternal covenant-communion.

Dialogue and discussion about God was once concealed in tight definitions of Dogmas that attempted to control God! The Trinity is about an invitation to be part of the chaos of life in a world and – yes in our Church with all its challenges and controversies today.

The end of Matthew’s Gospel invites us to ‘go, make disciples and baptize in the name of Father, Son and Holy Spirit.’ The early Church always stipulated baptism in living waters. This would have stirred up some mud and muck! Being baptized is not a chlorinated, sanitized business! Baptism leads us into the mayhem of humanity to remind us of our true destiny.

The Trinity is about a God who embraces our human shame and failures in the messiness of life. We believe in a God who stays with us in our 'kicking and a' gouging in the mud, and the blood and the beer' of our lives – to borrow a line from the lyrics of a Johnny Cash song.

The Trinity calls us to sing our chord of three notes that resounds from a single tone from beginning to end: One God beyond us, beside us and within us.

Have a Blessed Week

Canon Niall
